

BRYAN J. QUINSEY

Bryan has worked in the not-for-profit industry since 1991. He has worked for chambers of commerce, economic development organizations, equine breed associations, and for the mast 20+ years in the farrier industry. In the horse industry he has worked as a groom and trainer with Hackney ponies, American Saddlebreds, and carriage driving.

He has served as executive director for the American Farrier's Association, American Association of Professional Farriers, International Association of Professional Farriers, and Hoofcare Essentials Foundation. For five years he worked in marketing for Farrier Product Distribution in Shelbyville, Kentucky. In 2024, he joined farriers Roy Bloom, Tim Cable, Dave Farley, Steve Prescott, and Adam Wynbrandt in the reformation and branding of the Farrier Education Fund. He is excited about the opportunities that lie ahead for the Fund and the farrier industry.

Bryan resides in West Palm Beach, Florida.
